Note: Depending on your permission to access Web of Science™ and Web of Science™ Core Collection, you will have one or more of the following options:

Option 1:

WEB OF SCIENCE™

Search Web of Science
 Use this option to search Web of Science. Depending on your subscription, this can include articles, books, patents, and more.

Search Web of Science Core Collection
 Use this option to search Web of Science Core Collection. Depending on your subscription, this includes the world's leading scholarly literature in the sciences, social sciences, arts, and humanities and proceedings of international conferences, symposia, seminars, colloquia, workshops, and conventions.

Search Web of Science Core Collection Distinct Author Sets
 Use this option to search Web of Science Core Collection for sets of articles written by the same person.

Option 2:

ENDNOTE™

Go to EndNote
 Use your EndNote account to add articles and manage your ResearcherID publication lists.

Already use EndNote? You can transfer your ResearcherID publication lists between the desktop and web effortlessly. Learn about the additional features available in EndNote to accelerate your research including find full text automatically and access to over 3,700 publishing styles.

Search Online Resources using EndNote
 With EndNote, you can collect references from online resources including PubMed and more.

What is ResearcherID?
 ResearcherID provides a solution to the author ambiguity problem within the scholarly research community. Each member is assigned a unique identifier to enable researchers to manage their publication lists, track their times cited counts and h-index, identify potential collaborators and avoid author misidentification. In addition, your ResearcherID information integrates with the Web of Science and is ORCID compliant, allowing you to claim and showcase your publications from a single one account. Search the registry to find collaborators, review publication lists and explore how research is used around the world!
